11. Summary Mission and Plan Utilization of all available covert assets to exploit the resistance potential in Albania, undermine the Soviet power complex, develop a covert offensive in support of U.S. policy aims in the Balkans, and when feasible, to support a coup d'etat to replace the Communist regime with one acceptable to the West.
Summary
Paramilitary
1. The five-man Pig Team, which was infiltrated into Albania on the night of 7/8 September, exfiltrated after two skirmishes with security forces. The team was ambushed on 15 October and again on 20 October. During the fighting, one man was wounded and two became separated from the rest of the team. However, by 21 October, all team members had exfiltrated successfully to Greece. The team reported that a friend who was trusted on previous missions had betrayed it to the authorities. A great number of persons, including police, security forces and a few civilians, were reported involved in the ambushes. 2. The covert aircraft used in the resupply mission to the Apple/2 base team on the night of 23/24 October was forced to make an emergency landing in Brindisi, Italy. The Italian Service reported that the right engine appeared to have been damaged by 20 mm fire. A member of the Athens air staff went to Italy to arrange for repairs to the plane and the security of the crew. The plane's mission included a token supply drop to an alleged resistance leader. On 26 October, the covert air crew returned to Athens and reported encountering intense flak over the D.2. (presumably that of the alleged resistance leader). Full details of their debriefing are being forwarded to headquarters. The damaged aircraft is being serviced by the Italian Air Force.

A regular broadcast schedule was maintained by the covert radio transmitter. 3. The NCFA fortnightly newspaper, Shqiparia, was printed in Rome on schedule. The digest version for use in air drops over Albania was printed in Germany.
